LYRICS

VERSE 1

GRANDMA

When it seems the aching in your heart won't stop - it's here to stay.
And life before you knew the pain is a distant yesterday.
Allow yourself the gift of time, the scars will soon reveal there's a plan, a grand design for wounded hearts to heal.

CHORUS

GRANDMA

If I coulda done it for you I'd have done it long ago.
Cause there's nothin' I want more than for your tender heart to know:
Sometimes loving leads to losing, that's the way it has to be. But you were made to love again. Forgiveness makes you free.

GRANDMA

Alex, your mom's in pain.

ALEX

She's not the only one.

GRANDMA

I'm sorry to hear that. Hurt people, hurt people. Just try to love her, she'll soften up.

ALEX

Ya, you don't know my mom...oh well, maybe you do. She wants everyone to think that everything is just perfect. So when things don't go right or there's a mistake, well, it's just really hard for her to forgive. It's a lot of pressure.

GRANDMA

Forgiveness is hard for me too. For everybody I guess. But it's healing for our souls. I was singing "let it go" long before Disney got "Frozen".

VERSE 2

GRANDMA

"We hurt the ones who love us most," my Grandma used to say.
"The secret's not what comes to you, but what you give away."
Allow yourself the gift of time, the scars will soon reveal there's a plan, a grand design for wounded hearts to heal.

CHORUS

GRANDMA & ALEX

If I coulda' done it for you I'd have done it long ago.
Cause there's nothin' I want more than for your tender heart to know.
Sometimes lovin' leads to losing, that's the way it has to be. But you were made to love again. Forgiveness makes you free!

If I coulda' done it for you I'd have done it long ago.
Cause there's nothin' I want more than for your tender heart to know.
Sometimes lovin' leads to losing, that's the way it has to be. But you were made to love again. Forgiveness makes you free!
